

Study Abroad at Waseda

Let's Talk About Japan.

Want to study in the bustling, international capital of Tokyo, Japan? Consider Waseda University SILS program. The SILS courses provide exchange students the opportunity to study topics in Asian culture, history, society, politics, economy, geography, arts, and literature. With the exception of Japanese language classes, all courses are conducted in English. Japanese language courses range in level from elementary to pre-advanced. SILS One-Year Program students are required to take at least 6 credits of Japanese language courses in each semester.

Students can choose to live in the student residence hall on campus or with a homestay family.
