ALMA MATER HYMN

(Please stand during the playing of the Alma Mater.)

Written by Dr. Frank M. Williams
Roanoke College Choir
Dr. Jeffrey R. Sandborg, Director

Deep in our hearts, a flame is softly burning.
Deep in our thoughts, the mem'ries are returning.
Bells that are ringing, choirs that are singing,
Bring back the joys that we have known.

Learning to live, and loving as we're learning.
Seeking to find the truths for which we're yearning.
Years come and go, but we'll always know
That dear old Roanoke served us well.

To live once more, here in these hallowed halls.
To know once again all the joys that we used to know!

Some day the winter of life will pass before us.
Then we'll remember the place that proudly bore us.
Then we'll remember Alma Mater.
Then we'll remember Thee.

THE BENEDICTION

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

DOCTOR OF SCIENCE

DR. PETER JAY HOTEZ

Dr. Peter Jay Hotez has devoted his professional career to developing vaccines designed to attack a number of disease-causing human parasites. A physician-scientist, he and his research team have worked recently to develop a new COVID-19 vaccine that can be distributed globally. To date, it has been administered to 30 million children in India. Through his writings and regular media appearances, Dr. Hotez has become a leading international voice defending vaccines against rising anti-science aggression.

Since 2011, Dr. Hotez has occupied the Endowed Chair in Tropical Pediatrics at the Texas Children's Hospital in Houston and is the University Professor of Biology at Baylor University. He is the founding Dean of the National School of Tropical Medicine and is Professor of Pediatrics and of Molecular Virology and Microbiology at Baylor College of Medicine. He also serves as the Co-Director of the Texas Children's Hospital Center for Vaccine Development.

Born and raised in Hartford, Connecticut, Dr. Hotez began his public health career at a young age, cultivating a precocious interest in parasitic diseases. He earned the B.A. degree (magna cum laude) from Yale University in 1980 before entering a medical science training program, earning the Ph.D. degree from Rockefeller University in 1986 and the M.D. degree from Weill Cornell Medical College in 1987. Dr. Hotez returned to Yale as a postdoctoral fellow, subsequently joining the faculty, and focused on developing a vaccine to combat hookworm, an intestinal parasite afflicting one billion people worldwide, most residing in the poorest regions of the planet.

From 2000 to 2011, while chairing the Department of Microbiology, Immunology, and Tropical Medicine at the George Washington University Medical Center, Dr. Hotez worked to establish a global network for the treatment of parasitic afflictions that had previously been called simply "other diseases." He described them as "forgotten diseases among forgotten people" and realized that they affected not only health, but also education and economic development. Creating the framework of Neglected Tropical Diseases (NTDs), he focused on building awareness of NTDs in the scientific and medical communities.

Among the many misunderstandings in the medical and scientific communities about NTDs is the belief that they afflict people only in poor countries. Dr. Hotez realized that NTDs affected poor people in substantial numbers in developed countries. Out of this realization came his concept of Blue Marble Health: incorporating a plan to aid the thousands of impoverished individuals afflicted with NTDs who were living among the wealthy in G20 countries, including the United States.

Dr. Hotez is the author or co-author of over 600 scholarly articles and four books, including Vaccines Did Not Cause Rachel's Autism and his most recent, Preventing the Next Pandemic: Vaccine Diplomacy in a Time of Anti-Science. He is an elected member of the National Academy of Medicine and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He has received numerous awards, including the Scientific Achievement Award from the American Medical Association, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation's David E. Rogers Award from the Association of American Medical Colleges, the McGovern Award from the American Medical Writers Association, and the Popkin Award from the Anti-Defamation League. In 2022, Dr. Hotez has been nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize together with his science partner at Texas Children's Hospital for their COVID-19 vaccine work.

Dr. Hotez lives in Houston with his wife, Ann. They have four adult children.

Roanoke College added eight new academic majors and an MBA, Roanoke's first master's degree in more than one hundred years, under his leadership. Maxey led several initiatives to diversify Roanoke College as well.

Maxey also spearheaded the College's Roanoke Rising campaign, which led to the construction of the Morris M. Cregger Center, a state-of-the-art athletic and academic facility. Five new athletic teams were added as well as e-sports and an expanded roster of club sports and outdoor adventure opportunities.

In 2022, he was elected Chair of the Board of Directors for the Council of Independent Colleges. He is former president of the Network of ELCA (Evangelical Lutheran Church in America) Colleges and Universities and the Old Dominion Athletic Conference Presidents' Council. He is past chair of Council of Independent Colleges of Virginia presidents.

Her graciousness has been felt by everyone, whether she is delivering handwritten thank-you notes to each division of the College or by her cordial conversations with every member of the College community.

Maxey is a native of Richmond, Virginia. She received the Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Averett University in 1977, where she was a varsity field hockey student athlete. She returned to her alma mater after graduation as the Assistant Director of Admissions. While working there, she met her future husband, Michael Maxey.

Maxey serves on the Board of Directors for the West End Center for Youth, serving as the secretary of the board for four years. Maxey volunteered with the Salem City Schools as a Standards of Learning tutor for many years.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Ceremonial robes worn in the academic procession during Commencement exercises convey the breadth and intricate structure of the academic world.

Colors of diverse institutions and academic fields stand in high relief against the basic black of the caps and gowns. By its color(s), the lining of the hood represents the college or university that is conferring the degree.

Note the royal blue and gold of Roanoke College.

Gowns themselves are different shapes for bachelor's, master's and doctorate degrees.

The typical American cap is flat with a tassel draped over its front edge. Some colleges and universities in the United States and abroad use caps that are softly peaked or round and stiff.

In addition to traditional regalia, you will see some students at Roanoke's Commencement ceremony wearing honor cords and graduation stoles.

Honor cords consist of colorful twisted cords with tassels on the ends. The cords signify academic achievement or membership in a recognized academic honor group or society.

For graduates earning Latin honors, you will see specific solid-color honor cords: gold for summa cum laude, silver for magna cum laude, and white for cum laude.

Graduation stoles are decorative vestments worn by members of a college organization.

The stoles recognize membership or participation.

The cord and stole color and design are specific to a recognized academic honor or group.

Hoods also differ in shape for each of the traditional degrees. The edge of the hood and the chevrons and piping of the gown mark the field of study, according to the following scheme:

Agriculture – Maize

Arts, Letters, Humanities – White

Commerce, Business – Drab and Sapphire Blue

Economics – Copper

Education – Light Blue

Engineering – Orange

Fine Arts, Architecture – Brown

Journalism – Crimson

Law – Purple

Library Science – Lemon

Medicine – Green

Music – Pink

Oratory – Silver Gray

Philosophy – Dark Blue

Physical Education – Sage Green

Public Administration – Peacock Blue

Science – Golden Yellow

Social Work – Citron

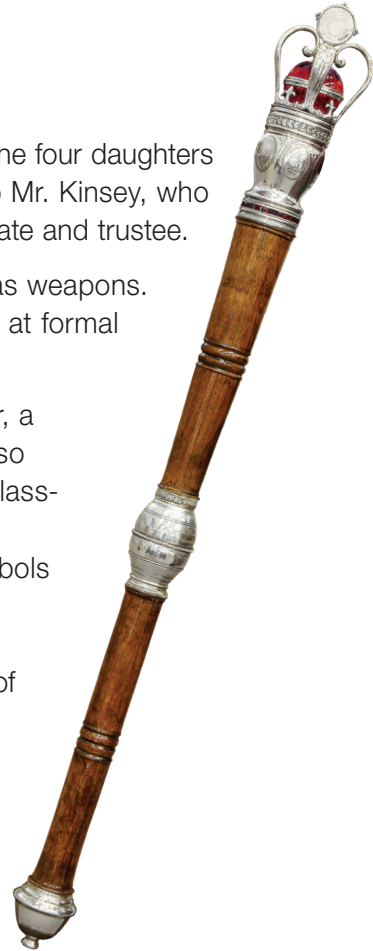

Theology – Scarlet

The Roanoke College Mace

The Roanoke mace was presented to the College in 1996 by the four daughters of Hartselle DeBurney Kinsey 1921. The mace is dedicated to Mr. Kinsey, who was devoted to Roanoke College as a student, teacher, advocate and trustee.

Maces date back to the Middle Ages, when they were used as weapons. Today, they are primarily symbols of academic authority used at formal convocations and commencement ceremonies.

Roanoke College's mace was designed by Susannah Wagner, a British-trained goldsmith and jeweler in Ashland, Virginia. Also involved in its making were a jeweler, engraver, stonecutter, glass-blower and wood crafter. The mace features a sterling silver headpiece, which is adorned with garnets and engraved symbols representing subjects cherished by Mr. Kinsey, an American walnut baluster (or wooden stem) and a medallion engraved with a replica of the College seal on one side and the symbol of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America on the reverse. A maroon hand-blown glass globe honoring the College colors rests inside the sterling silver cage of the headpiece. The cage features architectural elements from Miller Hall and rests on a base that includes a fleur-de-lis pattern found in wrought ironwork around campus.

The Roanoke College Seal

The seal of the College was approved by the Board of Trustees in April of 1964. It features a shield in national blue emblazoned with a mandarin yellow cross, representing Roanoke College's relationship with the Lutheran Church. The cross symbolizes the Christian values inherent in our culture, and above it is the lamp of knowledge. The white dogwood flower on the shield symbolizes the Commonwealth of Virginia. The motto, "PALMAM QUI MERUIT FERAT," means "Let him who earns the palm wear it." The palm is symbolic of the palm leaf that was given in honor of excellence in ancient Greece.

Roanoke has a special Snapchat filter for 2022 graduates. It's only available during Commencement on Saturday.
The official hashtag for the Roanoke College Class of 2022 is #maroons2022.
