Meet the Staff

Tanya Ridpath Director of Community Programs

Tanya is delighted to resume summer camps and have guests return to campus. This summer the college will ease into camps by only hosting day camps. A summer staff of two managers will cover day camps this summer. Kiki Scott and Angel Ross, who began working with Community Programs during the academic year will continue as co-managers. This August marks Tanya's seventh year serving Roanoke College. During the academic year, Tanya coordinates endowed lectures, the Elderscholar Program, President's Ball, as well as assists with other events on campus and within the Roanoke Region. Tanya received an M.S. in Communication from Radford University and a B.S. from Virginia Tech and brings over 20 years of higher education event planning experience. Tanya enjoys volunteering in the Roanoke Valley. In her spare time, Tanya is a Board of Directors member for the Grandin Theatre Foundation; as well as the Salem Area Ecumenical Ministries.

Kiki Scott Summer Conference Co-Manager

Kiki is a rising senior at Roanoke College studying business. She hopes to become a business analyst specializing in data visualization and stay in the Roanoke area. Kiki has been working in the Office of Community Programs since September as an assistant. She is excited to gain experience working in a managerial capacity with summer camps. During the academic year, she also works for The Advancement Foundation in Vinton as a business analyst for the GAUNTLET program. Besides working and studying Kiki is an active member of her sorority, Chi Omega, as well as The National Society of Leadership and Success. In her free time, you can find Kiki reading in a hammock around campus, hiking, shopping, or binge-watching Friends or New Girl.

Angel Ross Summer Conference Co-Manager

Angel is a rising senior at Roanoke College pursuing a psychology major with minors in sociology and Spanish. She has been working as an assistant in the Office of Community Programs since September. Angel will be attending graduate school for a Master of Social Work after her time at Roanoke; with a professional goal of pursuing a career as a case manager, to work in the foster care system. Angel is a member of the varsity volleyball team and is involved in organizations including Chi Omega and The National Society of Leadership and Success. She is looking forward to assisting with summer programs at Roanoke and is excited to live in sunny Salem for the summer. In her free time, Angel enjoys outdoor activities such as hiking, kayaking, and biking, in addition to reading and spending time with her dog.
